

Want To Know Adsense Secrets When They Are Available?

Contributed by Dennis
Monday, 20 October 2008

What are the adsense secrets? They are really no secrets, more like well researched information as to what is happening at this moment in time. The unfortunate reality is that most of us have access to this information but the only ones who have it in a profit turning form are the ones that have been doing testing and research.
{mosbotwordcount}

What are the adsense secrets? They are really no secrets, more like well researched information as to what is happening at this moment in time. The unfortunate reality is that most of us have access to this information but the only ones who have it in a profit turning form are the ones that have been doing testing and research.

{bot_wrgoogle}Adsense has become one of the sought after internet marketing businesses, and with good reason. The money changing hands is huge and anyone owning a well ranked site can generate a big recurring income for themselves.

Getting adsense to pay more than just a few dollars per day is an entirely different ball game. For you to succeed with adsense and generate a good income you need to have the latest trends and information right at your fingertips at all times.

The internet is dynamic and ever changing, for that reason and that reason only you need solid up to date information to stay ahead of the pack.

This does place many internet marketers in a catch 22 situation, the information is free but the compiled research is not. To know more go to www.instant-adsense-dollars.com. You can do your own research and in many cases you will come to the same conclusion and result. The only problem is that the research takes time and effort and if you don't know much about the subject matter you will first need to go through a learning curve.

Here you will have two choices, become an expert in the field and do the research, or buy the information from people who have done the research and are experts in the field. This will give you access to new information and you can do what you do best or you are an expert at.

For a new internet marketer this will be more difficult. You need to go through a learning curve before becoming an expert, but there is nothing wrong with making money while you are learning, and learning from experts will give you a boost, lessen learning time, and gain the knowledge what to look for and what to discard.

For adsense to work profitably on your site or sites you need to have access to the so called adsense secrets.

These secrets simply consist of knowledge of the following factors that will determine how much you will be making.

How many pages and sites you have. Getting around duplicate content Optimization of your pages Using the right keywords The amount of ads you place on your pages The value of the ads on your pages Making your site search engine friendly How to manage your traffic to your pages The amount of traffic you are able to generate to your pages Finding the right niches for adsense pages

Not all pages are the same. Different subjects and niches have different click through rates.

The biggest stumbling block to high paying adsense sites is that you will actually need traffic to your pages. The less traffic you get the less income you will be earning. But you can still make a good amount of money from little traffic. It is all about finding the right niche and the right keywords.

Many people are under the impression that many sites and many pages will bring you a good income. There are two trains of thought on this subject.

First is that the more sites you have the more money you will make. That is true to the extent that you have more pages indexed which in turn will give you more traffic. It has a problem though; each site you create has an annual registration fee, so be careful that your registration costs do not exceed your income. For good rankings the search engines need to see that your site is active and expanding.

The second is to have a few sites, about ten, with about 100 pages each. These pages need to be well optimized and well ranked for popular keywords in the different niches. This method has the problem of getting and keeping the pages ranking high which means a lot of work by you for every page for more details you can login to www.guardadsense.com. The flip side of the coin is however when the pages rise in the rankings of popular keywords you will quickly be earning five figures every month from adsense.

At the end of the day the secret to high adsense income is up to date information at your fingertips on all the factors that determine your adsense sites income at any given time.

<http://www.adsense-dollar-factory.com>