

Criminal Government

It is often heard in the halls of government that no one is above the law, but when no charges are filed, no trials held, no convictions obtained and no sentences meted, we see law has no effect on those who pass and enforce them.

If you would like to see an image of the democracy George Bush intends for Iraq, the Middle East and the United States, look to the Mexican democracy to our South. Millions labor for minimal slave wages and head North for a better life, where the corruption is enough less severe to make it worth risking one's life to be a second class non citizen. Mexican life and democracy has Made In USA written all over it.

{bot_wrgoogle}Every time an immigrant or terrorist illegally crosses into the United States, George Bush and the entire U.S. Congress is in violation of their oath of office and the "supreme" law of the land. Allowing a long term invasion of this country exceeding an average of one thousand invaders per day, they are traitors by definition. They are habitual criminals and under the popular three strikes laws such as in California, Congress would be sentenced to fifteen years in prison. The penalty for treason is death.

No charges are filed – no trials are held, because these crimes have been national policy for more than 150 years and no one is paying much attention – yet. The de facto punishment for these crimes and all the others we do not want to discuss publicly, is re election. When border state governors refuse to secure their state borders, knowing the national government is in violation of the law, they are criminal collaborators and equally guilty. Re elect them too. The breakdown of law and order is a top down process. Three cheers for government anarchy!

Every time an immigrant dies in the U.S. desert while illegally crossing, these same government criminals are guilty of manslaughter or negligent homicide. To be generous, we can call it government assisted suicide - although honesty forces us to admit suicide was not the intention of the victim or the government criminals – just an unfortunate circumstance of criminal policy. These corporate criminals are most certainly above the law and only that law which controls their slaves is enforced – with a vengeance.

Every time a shipment of drugs comes across this same border, the U.S. Government is guilty of trafficking in illegal drugs. They take their profits in taxes, credit and property seizures to fight the phony war on drugs they have been deliberately losing for thirty years or more. The Taliban put a heavy crimp in the opium and heroin trade. The U.S. Government restored it. Apparently it is more profitable to poison Columbian farmers.

Criminal apologists tell us millions of immigrants come here to do work Americans won't do. This is true only in the sense they will do these jobs for far less than fair market wages. So the jobs they do are not available to citizens at a living wage. The wages for citizens in related work are also depressed because the citizen can be replaced by a "guest worker" in the marketplace. We now have an estimated eleven million "guest workers" and the intention is to have many millions more to compete for jobs and drive down legal wages. And you don't believe the U.S. is just one big corporate plantation.

The government that refuses to obey the law and secure U.S. borders also refuses to secure the borders of Afghanistan and Iraq. They do not care about port or homeland security any more than borders. Thereby, government criminals are responsible for all who die in those countries as a result of unsecured borders. Why would anyone expect criminals to do in foreign nations any differently than they do at home? Why do you think Americans are so universally and justifiably despised? Irresponsible, incompetent, criminal leaders are out to "improve" the world because ignorant, irresponsible, co criminal voters and workers have elected them and pay them with unlimited credit to do as they please.

If in the U.S., you act as a lookout or get – away driver for an armed bank robbery, you are legally as liable as the armed robbers. If any life is lost as a result, you are equally guilty of manslaughter. If you played any role in electing government, slaughtering criminals, you are equally responsible for their crimes. A legal argument can be made that if you did nothing to prevent their election or crimes you share liability with those who put them in office. If you voted for their criminal political opponents who lost the election, you also share responsibility. The losing criminals would be just as criminal if elected because the Democratic and Republican political parties are no more than two criminal gangs vying for criminal supremacy. And you thought street gangs were the problem. Which gang have you joined?

There is no more war on terrorism than there is a war on drugs or a war on crime or a war on poverty. All are excuses to spend the national credit and make debt slaves of all of us on the great American plantation. Neither we nor our children will pay off the plantation debt, so we have already enslaved our grand children by our criminal cooperation. Too bad for them eh? Congresspersons make speeches about the moral bankruptcy of this policy then vote to raise the debt ceiling. No matter – we will make the children criminal collaborators like their ancestors and they will deserve to be homeless, imprisoned or executed by invaders, military adventurism, or environmental toxemia.

To better understand criminal government we have a simple rule. If they announce a war on anything, it is a government growing fraud designed to raid the treasury and spend the plantation into prosperity. War is their favorite economic engine – it's great for business and campaign finance. The wars they do not announce are the real ones. The war on family, the war on workers, the war on the poor, the war on the sick, the war on education, the war on environment and nature, the war on American citizens and the war on global prosperity have all been secretly waged and won. The criminals win all the wars that matter to them and none of those that matter to us.

Al Qaeda intends to bankrupt the United States which will bring an end to Western Civilization. George Bush, Tony Blair and all the other government criminals share this intention. This is the unity we have so longed for. We are all working for and approve of our own destruction. The great thing about this unity is; not one of us needs to lift a finger to guarantee the desired result. This work is a done deal. We only wait to observe the result. We are all Al Qaeda - brothers and sisters in the righteousness struggle. Brothers and sisters in common cause. Martyrs. We are all criminals and terrorists worthy of execution, damnation and divine curse. Unity will never be any easier than this. Three cheers for the end of Western Civilization and the resulting planetary recovery! Three cheers for democratic global survival lifestyles like those in Mexico and the Middle East! Three cheers for the unity of equality! Three cheers for criminal government and all who support it! It's time to stock up on our favorite drugs and drop out. Buy Canadian!
